

6516209230.txt

I drive over 1000 miles a week and in some areas there is no clear radio stations. The mountains in southwestern VA, and eastern KY block out regular stations. I can always hear XM radio and get the latest weather forecast. This has saved me driving time and possibly my life this past week. There were major flash floods in the area and if not for XM radio I would have drove into the worst part of the flooding. There is no substitute for XM radio.